BOSTON, Jan. 7.—The inauguration exercises of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts occurred at the state house today. The usual crowd gathered early. The big building was thronged at noon. Both houses of the general court met at 11 o'clock. After the formal announcement of the returns of the last election the committee appointed to notify the officials passed down the center aisle at 12:15 o'clock followed by the old and new staff and executive council. The large crowd of guests was then admitted. As soon as quiet was obtained President Lawrence administered the oath to Governor Wolcott, and when the ceremony was completed the governor delivered the address which was a very long one.

ALLISON REFUSES.

He Positively Declines to Enter President McKinley's Cabinet.

A GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT.

The President-Elect Must Now Begin His Cabinet State Anew.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—On his own authority and positively Senator Allison of Iowa will not accept a position in McKinley's cabinet. The senator arrived from Canton today. In answer to inquiries by an Associated Press reporter the senator said his conference with McKinley yesterday was of confidential character and so he couldn't discuss it. Speaking for himself, he said he would not be a member of the cabinet, and regarding others he said he knew little.

A Cleveland, O., special to the Baltimore American confirms the report that Senator Allison will not accept a cabinet position. One who was present at the conference between the president-elect and Mr. Allison says: "For the third time Senator Allison, a native of Ohio, declined the proffer of an Ohio born president to accept a cabinet position. The answer given by Mr. Allison to the appeal of his friend and admirer was gentle as a diplomat's reply to a chief could be, but had the firmness and determination of a fully considered and absolute reply.

"When the Iowa senator was leaving the president's home and said, 'God bless you and yours, is my prayer,' McKinley knew all his former calculations with the exception of Cornelius Blits had been upset and that he must practically begin anew, within less than two months of the day of inauguration, to make his cabinet slate.

"At Canton yesterday the entire cabinet was thoroughly discussed. McKinley had already been in correspondence with Mr. Allison on many subjects pertaining to the Republican situation. This easily paved the way for more personal questions regarding the senator's desire concerning his part in the future of the administration. Mr. Allison expressed his fullest sympathy and good wishes for the incoming administration, but he was very decisive in his statement, however, that he couldn't give up his place in the senate for an administrative office.

"Mr. McKinley expressed deep regret at Senator Allison's decision. It is a keen disappointment to the president-elect. Mr. Allison had been Mr. McKinley's choice for secretary of state from the very first.

"Senator Allison and Mr. McKinley freely discussed and advised about the coming inaugural address."

RIGHT OF CONGRESS.

Resolution by Senator Mills Regarding Cuban Matters.

EXECUTIVE MUST ACT.

The Senator Moves the Recognition of Cuba and the Appointment of a Minister.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The senate disposed of much routine at the outset of today's session. Many petitions regarding Cuba, also for and against the Loud bill were received. One petition from the Commercial club of Chicago expressed approval of the present policy of the administration.

Mr. Mills, a member of the foreign relations committee, brought forward a new phase of the Cuban question by offering the following joint resolution:

Resolved by the senate and house of representatives that the expediency of recognizing the independence of any foreign government belongs to congress and when congress determines the executive shall act in harmony with the legislative department of the government.

At the end of the six months those who had been interested in the work felt that it should be concluded, and when the Associated Charities was organized Mr. Allen was engaged to remain until April 1, 1897, as superintendent of the lodging house and wood yard. Why he does not remain he states in his letter.

Since he has been in North Adams Mr. Allen has devoted himself very earnestly to the work which he came here to do. For a long time he conducted a mission in connection with the other work, and in every way open to him he has striven diligently to aid the poor and struggling people with whom he has had to deal.

That he has been of great help to many there is no doubt, and there are not a few who will regret his departure from the city.

Mr. Allen will very soon join his family in New York, and further than this he has no definite plans.

DEMANDS IGNORED

Feeling in Congress Against Members of the Cabinet.

THE PRESIDENT IS ALSO BLAMED

No Attention Paid to Requests of Some Members for Information on Subjects Under Discussion, It Is Claimed.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The feeling is growing in the senate and house, and especially in the latter body, that there is a disposition on the part of certain administration officers to ignore requests from congress for information on certain matters, especially when such a request comes from any one who is not in record with the president's views on the subject in question. This was illustrated yesterday when Mr. Grosvenor, rep., O., addressed the house on a question of personal privilege. He called attention to the fact that a resolution introduced by him and adopted by the house June 5, last, calling upon the heads of the several departments for certain information as to the operation of the civil service law had as yet received no response from any one of the cabinet officers. He felt justified, he said, in raising the question whether or not congress had been properly treated in this regard, expressing the opinion that this silence of seven months showed that the heads of the several departments as well as the executive himself had begun to ignore the demands of congress. A resolution asking each cabinet officer to inform the house why no response had been made to the original resolution was agreed to without division.

Loud Rantill Bill.

The principal features of the Loud bill which passed the house last evening by a vote of 140 to 105 after two days' debate are those denying to the mails as second-class matter sample copies of newspapers and serial novel publications, and withdrawing from news agents the privilege of returning to their principals at the round price uncold copies of periodicals. The general debate was closed by Mr. Loud in a half hour's speech in favor of the bill, preceding which Messrs. Milliken, rep., Me.; Wanger, rep., Pa.; Tracey, rep., Mo.; Morse, rep., Mass., and Bingham, rep., Pa., addressed the house in opposition to the bill. The two hours devoted to a consideration of the bill under the five minute rule was productive of no change in the text, as referred to the committee of the whole.

No Interest in Senate Work.

The senate to-day is without any fixed programme and the proceedings are devoid of interest. The friends of Mrs. Maybrick, now confined in an English prison under life sentence, need look for no assistance from the senate, as it was plain to be seen yesterday, when the joint resolution requesting the government of Great Britain to pardon the unfortunate woman was taken from the calendar, that there was no intention to take any action, and the resolution was indefinitely postponed. The resolution was reported adversely last session. Mr. Gall's resolution instructing the president to demand the immediate release of Sanguily, referred to the foreign affairs committee, will probably be allowed to rest there during the remainder of the session. In a long speech on the subject of the resolution the case of Charles Govin was discussed quite as much as that of Sanguily. The statements of the Spanish officials that Govin's death resulted from wounds received in battle were discredited, and the assertion was repeated, on the authority of a person whom Mr. Gall did not name, but who, he said, was to be a member of the next congress, that Govin had been buried to a tree and cut in pieces with machetes by a squad of cavalry riding past. The two cases, Mr. Gall said, were types of what was occurring to hundreds of American citizens in Cuba, and it only needed investigation by the senate to "take the cover off that scene of butchery." As to a combination of European powers against the United States, Mr. Gall declared that there was no danger of such a thing, in view of the effect which it would have on the masses of the people in European countries, and that the sympathies of mankind would be with the American republic in such a struggle.

Boy Died from Nervous Prostration.

Berding, Pa., Jan. 7.—Edward S. Boyer, aged 38, who had charge of the coal department in a general store here, and who was accused by Miss Clara Gable several weeks ago of preying on her with a stolen seal skin cap, is dead. Boyer denied the charge and the girl was arrested on the charge of stealing it. She was tried and acquitted. The next day Boyer's mind gave way and he expired last evening from nervous prostration.

SEVEN NOBLE LIVES

The Number Known to Have Been Sacrificed in the Convent Fire.

ALL NIGHT HAVE SAVED THEMSELVES

The Christian Women Would Not Attempt to Leave Until Their Charges Were Safe—Bodies Found Knocked as it in Prayer.

Roberval, Lake St. George, Que., Jan. 7.—The convent burned here yesterday in which seven Ursuline sisters lost their lives. It was that of Our Lady of Lake St. John in charge of the Ursuline sisters, a cloister order, and one of the oldest sisterhoods in Canada. Usually there are about fifty young ladies in attendance at the school, besides the nuns and other attaches of the establishment, making in all about one hundred inmates. Most of the students, however, were away for the holidays. When the alarm was given the nuns bravely undertook the task of rescuing those in their charge, and in this heroic task those who perished gave up their lives. From floor to floor of the doomed building these Christian devotees dashed through blinding smoke and lurid flame, sounding the alarm, and not until every one in their charge was warned of their danger and safely cut off the building did they turn to the saving of their own lives. It was then too late, and, overcome by the heat and smoke, seven of these heroic sisters gave up their lives. The most elevated would be six miles high.

Binghamton, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The "Worcester Salt Special Train," which started from Silver Springs, N. Y., yesterday, arrived here in three sections at 6 o'clock last night. This is the shipment of one commodity ever made.

The officials of the salt company, together with prominent Erie railroad officials and representatives of the press, banqueted at the Bennett hotel last evening. Two of the sections of the special left for Port Jervis last night and started east from there this morning. The third section left Binghamton on the Delaware & Hudson at 7 o'clock this morning.

Cuban Campaign for Liberty Prospering.

New York, Jan. 7.—Delegate Palms of the Cuban junta in this city has just given out the following statement:

"I have received a letter from Gen. Jose Lacret, who is in charge of the Matanzas province, and who the Spaniards claim to have killed several weeks ago. General Lacret writes me that everything is prospering in his province and the Cubans have started two newspapers, which show that they are not always fighting. He further states that he is expecting General Gomez in his province and is making preparations to receive him. He reports everything within the Cuban line to be prospering."

Kansas Bonds Offered Cheap.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 7.—Holders

here of $7,000 road certificates of the county of Wyandotte, Kansas, containing Kansas City, have assigned them to a local attorney for a compromise if possible, at 50 cents on the dollar.

The county for a long time paid interest on the certificates, but then defaulted, and the default was sustained in the courts, and payment of the certificates, which was approved by commercial interests of the county, was defeated by the populist legislature.

New Method of Enforcing Liquor Law.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Plattsburgh has three liquor dealers who are it is alleged, dispensing intoxicants without securing a liquor tax certificate.

The master has been brought before the grand jury of the county, but indictment did not follow. Accordingly, in order to protect the state,

Excise Commissioner Lyman has executed the idea of restraining the trip from trafficking in liquor, through the aid of injunctions. Applications for injunctions have been made. This is the first case of the kind in the state.

benture stocks, which aggregates the
